

Lemonade 4 Cancer

National Breast Cancer Awareness Month is coming up this October, during which organizations across the country will work in partnership to build breast cancer awareness, share information and provide access to screening services. The Susan G. Komen for the Cure Foundation, proof that one person can make a difference in the fight against breast cancer, was the beneficiary of a grassroots fundraising effort by three of Lafayette's youngest citizens a bit closer to home that caught our attention on a recent sunny afternoon.

Steven Wilson's godmother has breast cancer. He and his sister Gabrielle, along with friend Trevor Plummer, decided to help the cause. On Sunday, August 26, they sold lemonade near their home in Lafayette to raise money for breast cancer research. At the end of the day, the trio had earned $50 to send to the Susan G. Komen Foundation. Gabrielle explained that she wants to "Stop people from dying from cancer. It is very sad."
