

Big Smiles Abound at Orinda Halloween Parade

Approximately 75 preschoolers and toddlers, parents, grandparents and caregivers showed off their spooky (and some not so spooky) costumes last Thursday at the annual Halloween Parade, sponsored by the Orinda Community Center Auxiliary (OCCA). The children followed Glenda the Good Witch twice around the Orinda Community Park before enjoying juice and cookies, coloring Halloween pictures, and making Cheerio bracelets and necklaces at the park.

In addition to this free event, the Auxiliary also sponsors and produces the summer concerts in the park, the spring egg hunt, and this weekend's Holiday Bazaar (Nov. 3 and 4). "We are always looking for more folks who are interested in being a part of the OCCA," said OCCA president Shannon Fuller. "We meet once a month (with no meetings in June, July, August and December) and provide free childcare during our meetings and for most of our events for those that need it."
