

LAMORINDA WEEKLY

Local Sports
Page 20-23

Need to contact us? 925.377.0977

Delivered bi-weekly to all
Lamorinda homes & businesses

Free

Volume 01; Issue 26 •

visit us online: www.lamorindaweekly.com

Wednesday, February 6, 2008

By Cathy Tyson

Love, Lamorinda Style!

Read Story on Page 6

LAMORINDA WEEKLY

this week

Meet...

Last month we introduced you to Lamorinda's new Mayors. This month, we begin a series of articles on the often unsung heroes who work tirelessly on behalf of our communities, day in and day out, ensuring that our cities and town run smoothly. They are the paid staff of our local governments. In this issue, meet Lamorinda's City Planners on pages 2, 3 and 4. Page 2, 3, 4

Dining on Dungeness

Page 5

Cougars Rout Las Lomas

Page 20

Town News	2,3,4,19
Blodgett Bash	2
New Face	3
Jazz in the House	4
Minor Offenses	5
Calendar, SMC Happenings	8
How to contact us	8
Working with Words	9
Letters to the Editor	10
Show Me The Money	11
Lamorinda Real Estate	12
Moving With Kids	12
Business	13
New Spa in Orinda	13
Schools	14-16
Sister To Sister	14
The Young Queens and Kings of Chess	15
Health Savings Accounts	17
Dining	18
MOSPRO Filed	19
Sports	20-23
Classifieds	22
SMC Women's Basketball	22
New Men's Basketball Program	23
Shop Orinda	24

Issues, Fears and Hopes Push Lamorinda Voters to the Polls

By Jennifer Wake

With the political campaigns heating up and Super Tuesday looming, Lamorinda residents rallied together to discuss the issues, spread the word and get out the vote.

More than 200 people (ranging in age from 16 to 90) attended the Lamorinda Democratic Club's election discussion and straw poll on Jan. 25 at the Orinda Community Church.

"It was the biggest meeting we've had since 2004," said Gerri Field, the club's vice-president.

Representatives for each of the major Democratic presidential candidates outlined their candidate's positions, and answered questions from the audience. The evening finished with a straw poll, where attendees (including the few high school students who came) voted for the "winning" candidate. Barack Obama took first, Edwards placed second, and Hillary Clinton landed third.

"The energy in the room was so high. There were a lot of young people there, and supporters waved bumper stickers and wore t-shirts with the candidates names on them," Field said. "The overwhelming issues on people's minds were healthcare, the war in Iraq and the environment."

Lafayette resident Steve Richard, who is the president of Sustainable Lafayette, shares the concern about these key national issues – issues he believes the White House can influence.

"I'm more interested in areas where the president and his team can make a dramatic difference through legislation and policy," he said. "The War is very pressing since we're losing lives every week and spending a phenomenal amount of money (over $8 billion per month) that is desperately needed in other areas."

Not surprisingly, Richard believes that climate change should be one of the top issues being discussed in the campaign.

"The federal government needs to lead with bold action similar to what the State of California has done (with AB32)," he said. "We need to think beyond the candidates themselves to consider the type of team that a candidate would likely assemble."

continued on page 11

Advertising

Go Green

Cleaning Products

Glue

Mold Remover

Paint Stripper

Mon-Fri: 7:30am-6pm • Sat: 8am-6pm • Sun: 9am-5pm

MORAGA SHOPPING CENTER

Dyer Defense and See-Saw Battle Brings Campo the Win

By Conrad Bassett

Chris Dyer scored the first three points of the game and finished with four of the last six, but it was his tenacious defense and eye for his teammates that led the Campolindo boys basketball team to a 66-56 win over rival Miramonte before a packed house on Jan. 29 in Orinda.

The Cougars (14-6, 7-1 DFAL) jumped off to a 9-2 lead as Jack Trotter and Adam Mancebo also drained threes but the Matadors (17-3, 7-1 DFAL) fought back behind Chris Hatfield's eight points in the period and led by 22-19 after one.

... continued on page 21

Lunar New Year

Welcome to the Year of the Rat, February 7, 2008 - January 25, 2009.

The Year of the Rat is the first year in a new twelve-year lunar cycle, making it the year of new beginnings. Lunar New Year is a time to honor ancestors and celebrate family and the coming of Spring. Gung Hay Fat Choy!

Congratulations and Be Prosperous!

(Drawing by Shayan Tajbakhsh)

Mailed to 24,600 homes and businesses in Lamorinda.

return to: Lamorinda Weekly • P.O. Box 6133 • Moraga, CA 94570

PRSRD STD
U.S. POSTAGE
PAID
AD-VANTAGE