A Day in the Life of Orinda's Maintenance Staff

From power washing sidewalks to keeping bathrooms clean and playfields green, Orinda's Parks and Recreation pros do whatever it takes to keep Orinda beautiful - and its residents safe, healthy and engaged with the community. "You can appreciate how versatile and hardworking these remarkable guys are," said Lamorinda Weekly photographer Ohlen Alexander after recently observing a day in the life of facility attendants Antonio Arroyo and Les Graham.

The dynamic duo are known as much for their ready smiles as their helping hands - even when work shifts extend past midnight due to late night city council and commission sessions. So, next time you see them out and about, introduce yourself and say, "Thanks."
