Administrative Staffing Exodus

"The state is just paying back the money they owe us," Learned explained, but it comes with strings attached. The partial reimbursement is for state-mandated funding. But now the governor is strongly suggesting that money should be used for something entirely different, supporting Common Core curriculum. "They owe us a dollar and are paying back 70 cents," then directing it be spent elsewhere, said the outgoing associate superintendent.

Also, at this point, there are no changes in adult education funding at the Del Valle campus. Final calculations will all be made clear at the upcoming June 3 Governing Board meeting - which, as always, is open to the public at the district offices at 1212 Pleasant Hill Road in Lafayette.

Lafayette Elementary Principal Shifts Roles within District
Lafayette Elementary School principal Mary Maddux announced May 26 that she will start a new position within the Lafayette School District as the assistant superintendent of curriculum and instruction. In a letter to the Lafayette Elementary School community, Maddux wrote, "One of my greatest joys is seeing those adorable children come in as kindergartners and each year grow both academically and socially. I have never been so proud as to ask a student what they were learning, and have them tell me with great enthusiasm, detail and evidence. The amazing support of our parents and community makes Lafayette School an incredible learning community, and one that I will always look at as a true highlight of my career." J. Wake
