

~ Life in LAMORINDA ~

Acalanes musical educator set to retire

By John T. Miller

Norm Dea at "the office."

Photo John T. Miller

Revered music instructor Norm Dea, who worked 35 years in the Acalanes Union High School District, will retire at the end of this school year. Instead of answering the bell in August on the first day of school, he will be vacationing in Kauai.

"I loved working with the students," says Dea. "The best moments for me have been getting a chance to talk to them and watch them grow up as people and to hear about their future plans. It's satisfying to know that I have some effect on how they grow up."

Dea's career nearly didn't get off the ground. He always wanted to be a music teacher, citing the influence of his Marina Junior High School instructor George Carter, but after earning a degree in music and music education from San Francisco State University, and finishing his student teaching at Tamalpias High School in Mill Valley, Dea spent a year and half looking for a job.

"There were 50-70 candidates for each opening and I made plenty of interviews, but no job offers," recalled Dea. "I was almost ready to give it up and go back to college for a degree in technology."

His break came when his mentor at Tamalpias, Bob Greenwood, recommended Dea to ex-band director at Acalanes, L. LeRoy Roach. Dea interviewed and got his first job in August 1983 at Las Lomas.

"It was a small, underdeveloped program and the band was tiny. We were required to do marching band and I wasn't having a lot of fun," said Dea. "I thought about resigning, but then our Winter Concerts were good and we started picking up more and more students from our feeder school, Walnut Creek Intermediate."

Dea was the sixth teacher in six years, and, by staying for 25 years, the stability helped build the program into one of the best in the state.

In 2008, Dea made one of the most difficult decisions in his career and moved to Acalanes to take over for Rick Meyer. One of the deciding factors was the opportunity to have a string orchestra, and to follow what he called two legendary teachers – Meyer, who taught 24 years at AHS, and Roach, who taught 27 years. Both are in the California Music Educators Association Hall of Fame.

The transition was difficult at first, according to Dea. "They were resistant to the change of teachers and it took a little work and patience, but when the third year came I felt we were all on the same page and I had won the kids over."

On a typical day, Dea arrives at AHS at 5:30 a.m. for paperwork, score study, and classroom preparation. He greets the Jazz Band at 7:30 a.m. and after a full day of teaching, he might still be there late into the evenings with concerts, rehearsals, or other events. Often, he travels with groups over the weekend. "It's time consuming," said Dea, "but also a labor of love. It's been fun."

He's had scores of memorable moments over the years, and pointed to an example this year, when the wind ensemble traveled to a high-end band and orchestra festival at Sonoma State University at Weill Hall. "We were in the Green Music Center, a jaw-dropping beautiful concert hall with a large audience and national adjudicators. The students were outstanding," said Dea. "We went into the clinic and just glowed about it."

Many former students around the country keep in touch with Dea on social media, and will often sit down over coffee or drinks and visit. They tell him about college and if they're still playing. "Even though most of them don't continue in music careers, it's nice to see them be good music consumers and understand the value of music education."

Dea mentioned a pair of former students who are still in music, one being John Douglas, from Las Lomas, who works as a saxophone coach at Acalanes, and another is Will Baker, who graduated from AHS and subs in the San Francisco Symphony and Opera on bass trombone.

An overriding influence in Dea's career came from Greenwood, his Tamalpias High mentor. "He instilled values that I still use today, including giving back to my profession through service."

Dea is proud of his leadership roles in music education, including serving as president of the 15-county CMEA Bay Section, president of the State CMEA, and as president of the California Band Association. With these positions added to his teaching load, it was like he had two full-time jobs.

Although Dea will officially retire on June 11, a previous commitment will take him – along with 42 students and 12 parents – to Munich, Salzburg and Vienna from June 19-27 where they will play in concert halls and outdoor amphitheaters. ... continued on page B2

New Hair Salon in Moraga

Book your appointment today!

925-631-9000 | 348 Park St. (Next to the Rheem Theatre)

Specializing in Swimming Pools

Lamorinda Solar

36 Years in Business

The Sun can HEAT your Swimming Pool for FREE

Swim more
Entertain more
Exercise more
Enjoy your pool

Save up to $100 per month

A New Variable Speed Filter Pump Can Save You 90% on Your Monthly Energy Bill!

Programable for desired speed for filter, SPA, waterfall & solar.

$500 off
New Systems

$50 off per
Panel Replacement

$75 off
any repair (over $200)

The Best Service Under the Sun Since 1981!

Mark Frey, Owner
Local family owned business

925-952-9239

www.LamorindaSolar.com

CA Lic. # 416616

the many faces
of skin cancer

Wednesday May 30, 2018

Please join us for this free educational event...

Come and experience the Many Faces of Skin Cancer, an event focusing on one of the most preventable cancers. Join an engaging panel of medical experts as they offer insights into the latest information on prevention, risk factors, new treatment options and explore the unique needs and issues of skin cancer survivors.

Lafayette Library - Community Room
3491 Mt Diablo Blvd,
Lafayette, CA 94549

Wednesday May 30, 2018
6:30pm - 8:30pm

Space is limited. Advance registration required.
Admission and refreshments are free.
Parking available in Library Garage or on street.

Kelly Hood, MD
Dermatologist

Susan Kao, MD
Medical Oncologist

Arash Mohebbati, MD
Melanoma Surgeon

Christine Chung, MD
Radiation Oncologist

RSVP: 925-677-5041 x272 or email sjung@dvohtm.com

Joyful Beginnings Preschool

Play-based learning (ages 2 - Pre-K)

Open daily 8:30 - 11:45

Lunch Bunch Option until 2:45

(925) 284-1143

www.joyfulbeginningsschool.org

Schedule a tour today!

Our preschool program is designed to challenge each area of a child's development; including physical, social, emotional, spiritual, and cognitive. Children's play is a primary vehicle for and indicator of their growth. Child initiated, teacher supported play is an essential component of a developmentally appropriate classroom.

Lafayette United Methodist Church, 955 Moraga Rd., Lafayette