THT shares some favorite productions online

Submitted by Susan Evans

Town Hall Theatre continues opening up the archives to share some of its past productions with audiences. Next up: 2011's "Twelfth Night" video, accessible for viewing through June 14.

Shakespeare's joyous comedy of mistaken identity and thwarted love, "Twelfth Night" closed Town Hall's 2010-11 season. The production was directed by Søren A.

Oliver and featured Town Hall Managing Director Dennis Markam as Orsino, Assistant Technical Director and Scenic Artist Justin DuPuis as Sir Andrew and former THT Artistic Director Clive Worsley as Feste. You might also recognize Yahya Abdul-Mateen II (from Watchmen on HBO) as Antonio.

THT archival videographers recorded during a live performance with the feeling of an in-person viewing. Once you make your purchase, the box office will email you with details and instructions and a web link, as well as a password to enter that will let you view the show. (The password will be active for a 48-hour period, reset after 48 hours at noon, and there's one view per ticket-holder.) The price of your ticket to this video will help Town Hall continue to produce exciting live (and recorded) theatre for the community for the next 75 years. Future archival digital releases from Town Hall Theatre may include "An Ideal Husband" (2017).

Tickets are all pay-what-you-can, and are available through the Box Office at (925) 283-1557 or online at <https://www.townhalltheatre.com/town-hall-video-archives>
