The Moraga Valley Kiwanis Club has, once again, partnered with Target to assemble and provide 100 backpacks with back-to-school supplies that were distributed through the Monument Crisis Center in Concord to some eager children preparing for the next school year. This has become a beloved annual event and a great example of a nonprofit and company partnership to provide a vital service to our communities. The work was done by eight Kiwanis volunteers and several Target volunteers, assembling the backpacks at Target and then delivered to the Crisis Center for distribution to participating Contra Costa County families.
